Instagram account, the SRRO was able to reach, educate, and engage with even more students content related to sexual violence, the policy, reporting options, and their rights and responsibilities.

Institutions were required to review and amend their sexual violence policies by March 1, 2022, which the College has done, so that institutions' sexual violence policies would provide that:

- A complainant acting in good faith, who discloses or reports sexual violence, will not be subject to actions for violations of the institution's policies related to drug and alcohol use at the time the sexual violence took place.
- During the institution's investigative process, students who share their experience of sexual violence through disclosing, accessing support, and/or reporting to the university or college, will not be asked irrelevant questions from institution's staff or investigators, such as those relating to past sexual history or sexual expression.

MOVING FORWARD

The College continues to review and upetate College's Sexual Violence Policy which desinput and review from the diverse members of the liege community including the College's Sexual Violence Task Force. This view includes ensuring that our policy is framed within an appressive and trauma informed lens, is aligned with best practices, and reflects Niagara College's commitment outstic student experience and strong organizational culture.

Updates topolicies and procedures alseflect Bill 26, the Strengthening Posecondary Institutions and Students Act which as passed in December 20202d must be actioned by July 1, 20203e revised legislation:

- defines what "sexual misconduct" means in relation to students at an institution
- indicates that an institution may discharge or discipline an employee if they commit an act of sexual misconduct towards a student and that the institution shall not subsequently peoy the employee
- requires every institution to have an employee sexual misconduct policy that includes the institution's rules with respect to sexual behaviour that involves employees and students, and examples of disciplinary measures that may be imposed on employeesowhavene the policy

In summary, the addition of the fulltime SVPRC role in April 2022 has allowed for increased and more robust educational programming, efficient response times for supporting students, campus community support, and ensuring compliance with the Ministry's expectation to the focus on support, awareness, and training efforts in 2023 and strive to further educate students on sexual and gender ased violence.
